Creating something new is not necessarily about starting with a clean slate. It is often more a matter of combining things in a new way, where there is a delicate balance between recognition and surprise

OF NORWAY 1945

For more than 75 years, Hovden has delivered furniture to Nordic homes. Our sofas are still made by hand, and the work is characterized by good quality, carefully selected materials and attention to details. We combine modern design with established tradition and set a requirement that our furniture should be a safe and good buy at reasonable prices. All our furniture is prepared individually by the customer's choice of model, size, fabric, wood and colour. Each piece of furniture is approved by a quality inspector before it is packed in recyclable materials and shipped to our customers.
